Sylvie the Sheep was gentle and nice,
She would offer her help without thinking twice.

She liked everyone,
and they liked her too,
From the creatures that walked to the birds that flew.

Sylvie looked happy
to all of her peers,
But inside her mind
she was haunted by fears.

She was afraid of sleeping in the dark,
And swimming at sea with a big hungry shark.
